Fellowship Brochure for your use, it is not

HONOR

The International College of Dentists is the preeminent honorary organization of the world's outstanding dentists who have, by their actions, demonstrated an abiding interest and concern for their profession.

One of the most significant events in a person's career is that of being recognized as a Fellow of an organization of professional distinction.

In the dental profession, such acceptance signifies that one has brought honor to the profession through devoted service and high ethical behavior, and that in return, one is bestowed the highest honor of that profession through acceptance as a Fellow in the International College of Dentists.

ORGANIZATION

The International College of Dentists was created in 1928 by Dr. Louis Ottofy with the help of Dr. Tsurukich Okumura of Japan. Its purpose was to promote cordial relations within the profession and help disseminate scientific information.

The College was formed to advance the science and art of dentistry for the health and welfare of the public, to bring together the world's outstanding members of the dental profession for the exchange of dental knowledge, and to encourage the growth of the profession worldwide.

OBJECTIVES

The objectives of the International College of Dentists are:

- To bring together outstanding members of the profession throughout the world to foster growth and dissemination of knowledge and promote goodwill among members of the profession.
- To cultivate cordial relations among people in dentistry and those in other health professions.
- To elevate the stature of the profession requiring the highest standards of ethical and professional conduct of its members, who must recognize their civic and social obligations as good citizens of their community and who must accept their extraordinary responsibilities as members of their profession.
- To work with other organizations for the prevention of oral disorders.
- To encourage postgraduate study and research.
- To preserve the history of dentistry.
- To advance the science and art of dentistry for the health and welfare of the public.

SELECTION

The International College of Dentists has an extensive process of screening candidates for acceptance to Fellowship. Candidate qualifications are evaluated by as many as 25 Fellows during the screening process, which ensures the highest quality of membership in the International College of Dentists.

The limited membership in the College is by design, paradoxically contrasting its worldwide involvement.

The College membership totals over 7,600 — with 4,600 members in the USA Section and about 3,000 members in sections around the world.

PROJECTS

The USA Section of the International College of Dentists has many projects, among which are the following: Annual Continuing Education Conference; Annual Dental Journalism Awards and Seminar; Outstanding Senior Student Award for professional growth and development; International Dental Student Exchange Program; International Clinicians Program; Audiovisual History Program; and International College of Dentists USA Section Foundation.

The International College of Dentists is respected throughout the world. We are guardians of its dignity and welcome the challenge to live up to its standards in all that we do.

Come and be a part of our 1995 Convocation in Las Vegas!

Glitter or glitz — you can decide

Las Vegas, the Emerald City, rises out of the desert to become the entertainment capitol of the world. With 28.8 million visitors in 1993 it has earned an international reputation as the premier resort. This setting, Las Vegas, is the site of the 1995 meeting of the International College of Dentists – USA Section.

This is a city that never sleeps. A gem of many facets; all of which contribute to the brilliance, it displays a festive ambiance. A city of 71 opulent hotels and 187 motels with 87,059 rooms, it becomes a fantasy land of exciting entertainment.

You can view gigantic man-made waterfalls, erupting volcanoes, circus acts and theme parks.

Some believe that THE major attractions are the lavish, dazzling, exciting revues or lounge shows. You can also be enthralled by acts by top name celebrities and tomorrow's stars.

To satisfy your gambling appetite, there are 114,668 slots plus dice, roulette, blackjack, Keeno, and other games that provide non-stop gambling. They will even teach you how to win(?). The casinos never close.

Change the scenery and life style by going to the Gulch (downtown) where you can walk Fremont Street that is lighted with a brilliance that turns night into day; the light is as bright at midnight as it is at midday. The Gulch is peopled with a greater mix of persons with different dress and personalities.

Other kinds of activities abound. Nearby is Death Valley, the engineering marvel Hoover Dam and it's Lake Mead, beautiful Red Rock Canyon and Valley of Fire. You might also see feral horses, burros, or desert big horn sheep.

There are also museums, art galleries and historic sites to visit as well as a chocolate factory and a marshmallow factory.

With a pleasant average temperature of 66° you can dress the way you like. Casual clothes are fine around the clock although women usually prefer cocktail dresses for evening wear. Light weight wraps are advisable for evening. A fair percentage of men wear sports jackets or jacket and tie.

Las Vegas is cited as a family destination resort – something for every age to do. Join your Fellows in Las Vegas October 6, 1995 for a visit that will surpass your deepest fantasies and create a memory that is unparalleled. ■

A celebration lies ahead —

The day begins for the inductees with their robing. And they, along with family and friends, wait anxiously for the big event — the Convocation. Then the inductees, with full pomp and circumstance, march across the stage and are bestowed Fellowship into the International College of Dentists. What a memorable day!

Now comes the time for relaxing and celebrating. Forget for now, the glitter and clatter of coins on the “strip” and join your Fellows for a wonderful evening. You can look forward to the reception that begins at 6:30p.m. in the Riviera Convention Center Foyer to Ballroom. The Riviera Hotel will have a difficult time topping the outstanding banquet we enjoyed in New Orleans but you can be assured that they are up to the task with their gourmet

Donald E. Johnson accepts leadership of USA Section

As I have made my presidential visitations to the various states this year, I have chosen to deviate from the standard format of "Greetings From the Board of Regents" and Project descriptions in favor of the opportunity to promote the "Objectives of the College" and stimulate Fellow awareness of some of the current issues affecting our profession. For the record though, let me capitalize upon this opportunity, in print, to comment on the status of the USA Section which is sound, both financially and functionally.

I have worked with many organizations over the years, some good and some bad; but never have I had the opportunity to work with a group more talented and fine tuned than this Section of the College. We owe a great deal of thanks to Frank Kenward for the groundwork he laid and now to Dick Shaffer, for his expert leadership; Florence Fallavollita, for perfection in office administration; "Satch" Selfridge, for unequaled continuing education programs; and to the Committees of the Section for fiscal responsibility and flawless performances. It doesn't get any better than this.

One of the most pressing issues affecting our profession is the growing feeling that dentistry must follow in the footsteps of medicine and accept "Managed Care" as a replacement for the traditional "fee for service, private practice of dentistry". This is nonsense! Dentistry did not bring on nor participate in the cost escalation we are seeing in health care. Dental care accounts for only 4% of the health care dollar and a review of fees over the past 20 years shows dentistry to be in line with cost of living increases and only out of line due to overhead expense brought on by CDC and OSHA regulations.

If we follow the "Objectives of the College" we must continue to move forward; if we allow third parties to dictate the quality and frequency of care, the welfare and health of the public will ultimately suffer. We need the best minds in dentistry to guide our profession through this crisis and to inform the leaders of America's corporations as to which programs are sound programs for their employees. Those best minds are Fellows of this College; and I call upon YOU to get involved, stay involved, and continue to make dentistry a leader, not a follower.

I also invite each of you to join us in Las Vegas on October 6th at the Riviera Hotel for the Annual Convocation where we will be addressed by Fellow Charlie Norwood, a member of Congress, and one of the "good guys". ■

Donald E. Johnson is known for his leadership

A product of the public schools in East Point and Atlanta, Georgia, Don received his high school education at the Georgia Military Academy. He obtained his undergraduate degree at the University of Georgia and Emory University. After serving in the U.S. Air Force, he returned to Emory to complete his studies and receive his dental degree, with honors, from Emory University's School of Dentistry.

He remained at Emory as a full-time, then part-time instructor in crown and bridge dentistry upon entering private practice. Don was one of the first student clinicians to the ADA Annual Session in Los Angeles. He has served on the Emory University's Board of Visitors and as president of the Dental Alumni Association for Emory's School of Dentistry.

Don is a National past president of Psi Omega Fraternity, and past president of the Hinman Dental Society, the Northern District Dental Society of Georgia, and received an Award of Merit from his constituent. He is a member of OKU, the American Association of Dental Insultants, the Flying Dentists Association; and Toastmasters International. Don is a York Rite Mason and Shriner.

One friend says that Don made a tremendous impact on him — was a role model. Another has said that he is the ultimate professional, dedicated to our profession with his whole heart; and if you want a job done right — give it to Don. Others say that Don is honest and forthright, known for his openness and candor. His excellent clinical skills are known by all. He is also known for his amazingly insightful leadership in organized dentistry.

Don is blessed with two gorgeous daughters and six gorgeous granddaughters — family is important to him. ■

My View from the Central Office

Registrar's Comments

I look forward to Las Vegas on October 6, when we will induct into Fellowship in your College the largest class ever. It is exciting to see the enthusiasm of the sponsors and the responsible performance of the Screening Committees, Counselors and the Deputy Regents. It is obvious everyone is doing their part with eagerness as you see the high quality of the Fellows-Elect. I hope you have your reservations in Las Vegas by now, but I am sure you can still get rooms if you go to it on a personal basis. We will see you in Las Vegas for a great day.

I'll spare you the details of what is happening in the Central Office since the last KEY. I will say, however, we still are providing responsive service to you, the Fellows, and very much appreciate the many kudos you send our way. We will be adding to the staff here this fall to assist primarily in the finance/dues/accounting areas as the Central Office will accept the task of collection of most constituent dues in concert with the national dues. This will provide productive assistance to the state and will hopefully make it easier for you, the Fellow.

All of the projects of the USA Section are going very well. We try to keep you informed of the projects your dues support. We certainly hope you read about them in the KEY, KEYNOTES and hear about them at your ICD state and local meetings. We are trying to do a lot for you and for dentistry. Through student awards at each dental school; through Journalism awards through the AADE; through International Student Exchanges with US Dental Schools and non-US dental schools; through International Clinicians support for lecturers to other countries; through a tuition free yearly Continuing Education Program in different locations; through a Journalism Seminar with the ADA for dental Editors through the United States; through a Videotape Series "LEADERS IN DENTISTRY SERIES" available to dentistry; through participation in the dedication to the Anniversary of the Initial Fluoridation of the drinking water in the United States, YOU and other Fellows can be proud of the many outstanding projects approved and supported by your Board of Regents. The ICD is not sitting around. Maybe we should blow our own horn more and tell everyone of the wonderful and meaningful projects we are doing, maybe we should not, but the fact remains, very few organizations spend as much of their budget doing projects for dentistry as the ICD. For this you should feel very good.

Several important dates for your planning:

Las Vegas, October 6, 1995 – Convocation/Dinner. Call us if you still need a reservation, all festivities will be at the Riviera Hotel and Casino.

Beaver Creek, Colorado – 25-28 July 1996 – Continuing Education Conference XIV. This will be one to NOT miss. It will be a unique meeting for all.

Orlando, Florida September 27, 1996 – New Inductees honored at the Convocation/Dinner.

Traverse City, Michigan 9-13 July 1997 – Continuing Education Conference XV. This will truly be an Anniversary Celebration.

1995 has been great so far and more to come. Please contact the Central Office if we may be of assistance to you or if you have suggestions. Our hours are 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.. We are closed on Federal Holidays and times when Florence and I are both out. Please leave a message on the machine and we will get back to you.

The ICD needs each of YOU to make it go . . . The International College of Dentists is recognized throughout the world as the preeminent dental honorary organization. YOU helped to make it so, YOU can make it better. YOU are the future. YOU are the strength. Continue to get more involved and you will enjoy your Fellowship even more.

*SEE YOU IN LAS VEGAS.

The College's Deputy Regents fill an awesome role

Their functioning determines success

All organizations have offices of responsibility. The International College USA Section is no exception. These range from the Registrar to the Editors of the Section or Component. There is, however, a major responsibility placed on the Deputy Regent.

Chosen for qualities of leadership, stature in the state and his/her community, his/her willingness to work closely with his/her colleagues, state officers and Regent, the Deputy Regent bears an awesome grass roots responsibility in seeing that our process works and is successful. The enthusiasm of the state and the success of meeting the objectives of the USA Section is dependent on the responsible functioning of the Deputy Regent. This cannot be accomplished without a thorough knowledge of the Constitution and Bylaws of our Section.

The Deputy Regent's first task is to nominate the members of the Screening Committee and appoint Counselors and the Editor. Beyond this is the need to encourage and support these persons and see that they function responsibly.

Names of suggested candidates are received and referred to the Screening Committee. The committee is given support and is responsible for the timely response in writing.

Following the committee's approval, the necessary Candidate

Information Form is provided to the sponsor of the candidate. A very major responsibility of the Deputy Regent is to determine that the CIF is totally completed, especially Section 14 and 15 on non-dental organizations, philanthropic and community activities, and all signatures are present before forwarding the form to the Regent for action.

It is necessary to keep a record of the procedure and ensure that all activity and information is kept confidential.

There are other areas that need attention, too. Resting with the Deputy Regent are the details of seeing that arrangements are made for meetings, that deaths, resignations, retirements, payment delinquency and other record keeping matters are reported to the Regent and the Central Office. Encouragement must be given to members attendance at meetings, and attendance at our annual induction and dinner dance, especially the sponsors inductees.

Through all this work, frequent contact with the Regent must be maintained giving a report on meetings, making recommendations on the process of induction, and filing an annual report.

You can now understand the responsibility placed on the Deputy Regent. They must be truly dedicated to our College to accept this role. These devoted servants deserve sincere thanks from all the members of our ICD USA Section for their efforts in making our procedure successful and for the success of our College. ■

Patrick Metro chosen General Chairman of 1996 ADA-FDI World Congress

Patrick Metro, 1996 Chairman of the American Dental Association Council on Annual Session and International Programs has been chosen General Chairman for the 1996 ADA-FDI World Congress in Orlando, Florida. This meeting is expected to break all attendance records. A dazzling selection of domestic and international clinicians with simultaneous translation into four foreign languages is expected to draw in excess of over 60,000 attendees from all corners of the globe. In addition, special social events and programs designed to please both the domestic and international taste are being prepared. In planning the enormous logistics for such a meeting, Dr. Metro met with international representatives for preliminary planning in Vancouver last fall and will travel to Hong Kong following the October Las Vegas meeting to work out the final details.

Pat is also serving a three year term on the Board of Governors of the National Council for International Health (NCIH) as the sole representative of the ADA. This is the first time the ADA has had a representative on the Board of Governors. In addition, Dr. Metro was elected by the Board of Governors to a one year term (1995) on the seven member executive committee, a singular honor and first ever for dentistry.

"Pat is making an enormous contribution as dentistry's voice for integration of Oral Health into the total concept of General Health."

— Frank Lostumbo,
President NCIH

"Pat has great impact on bringing the health community together and is synergistic on opening another network for health issues."

— Barry Smith, M.D.,
Chairman NCIH

As Regent of the International College of Dentists from 1988-1993, Pat developed the protocol for the International Student Exchange Program as well as the International Clinicians Exchange Program. This experience has served him well in his work with the NCIH and as General Chairman of the World Congress.

---

"Pat was an excellent Regent, most dependable and handled it very well."

— Charles Hassel, D.D.S., Past Deputy Regent, IN

"Pat has been, is, and I am sure will be in the future an untiring worker for the good of the U.S.A. Section as well as all dental organizations. He has faithfully discharged his duties on behalf of the Section and his profession in a most exemplary fashion."

— Lloyd Phillips,
Past President,
USA Section

Pat has served as president of the Cleveland Dental Society (1981) and the Ohio Dental Association (1991).

Dr. Metro is currently Scientific Chairman for the ADA 1995 Las Vegas meeting. ■

Charlie Norwood — ends up in the most amazing places

Sets his goal for the sun — aims for the moon

By Charles H. Smith
Atlanta, Georgia

Former Georgia Dental Association President and now president of the USA Section of the International College of Dentists, Dr. Donald E. Johnson, has been doing some barnstorming of late. President Johnson has been touring the country representing ICD and speaking to his now familiar theme of responsibility and accountability. Dr. Johnson believes dentistry has never been more in need of senior, experienced, leadership than it is today. He says, “the ICD has as its members, the brightest, the most talented, and the most experienced dentists in our country. We must stand up for dentistry and not sit back and watch changes take place simply because we don’t think they will affect us before we retire.”

One member of the International College of Dentists who has stepped forward to display his commitment and to fulfill the challenges issued by Dr. Johnson is Dr. Charles W. Norwood, Jr. from Augusta, Georgia.

As early as 1993, Charlie began a new era in his career by showing his responsibility and his willingness to be a leader in manifesting his beliefs. He believed so strongly that government had to be reformed if his grandchildren were to grow up and enjoy a comfortable quality of life, he sold his thriving dental practice and announced he was a candidate for the U.S. Congress. With a potent vision for governmental reform, the Georgia Dental Association’s former leader and 116th President, turned politician. He tried out his new political wings by asserting to fellow dentists, “maybe you can’t vote for me [10th District Georgia], but I can vote for you.”

For the next 13 months, Charlie, as he is known around Georgia, stormed the tenth district attempting to meet every possible voter and canvassed the state to raise every possible campaign contribution in his run to be a U.S. Representative. During his successful campaign for Republican Congressman from Georgia, Charlie promised tax payers he would fight for reforms leading toward a balanced budget and tax relief. He promised mothers he would fight for legislation to help stop crime and improve the failing judicial system. And he promised dentists he would not rest until Joseph Dear (head of OSHA) heard and responded to dentistry’s need for regulatory reform.

Until their debates in late October became the most televised in Georgia history, Charlie and the Democratic incumbent were locked in a nail-biting battle. But Charlie’s straight-talk politics won 67% of the vote in November and Charlie and his much admired wife, Gloria, took up residence in the nation’s capitol.

Before his political ambitions ever materialized, Gloria said about him, “Charlie is great fun to watch, he always sets his goals for the sun while aiming for the moon — and ends up in the most amazing

The prominent project of the ICD USA Section is our Audiovisual History Series

Significant contributions of dental leaders recognized

There are many names in dentistry, past and present, that you may know as you read dental literature as having made significant contributions to our profession. The USA Section of the ICD perceived that many of these leaders needed to be recognized and that their contribution be perpetuated. Thus was borne the project "Outstanding Leaders in Dentistry/An Audiovisual History Series."

The College presents a VHS video taped series by outstanding leaders reviewing their accomplishments and presenting their views on the dental profession. Clinicians, practitioners, researchers and educators who have made significant contributions to our profession are recognized in these tapes. Important events in their lives provide human interest aspects with historic value. The interviewees included why they chose dentistry as a career, the factor that influenced the character and timing of their contributions, and their views of dentistry's past and future from their own historical perspective. During the annual meeting in Atlanta in 1984 the USA Section of the ICD recognized its roll in fostering projects in dentistry by approving a project to record outstanding and famous leaders in dentistry on videotape. The idea of these tapes was based upon the recognition that there are individuals who, because of their clinical or administrative responsibilities, that might not have kept accurate records of their lives through journals or diaries. The intimacy of television interviews allows the thoughts and views of distinguished leaders in dentistry to be preserved for future generations.

The idea for these tapes came from fellow Richard Adelson. He did an interview with Dr. David Grainger, who at the time, was at the School of Dentistry, University of Florida. The impact of this tape came, when at the end of the interview, Dr. Adelson said, in effect, "We'll meet in ten years and see how many of your predictions come true." The following year Dr. Grainger died.

Fellows Adelson and Earl Collard had attempted to get three major dental organizations to fund the project to interview other outstanding dentists, realizing from this one tape how quickly life can end and all of the personality of the individual can be lost forever. These attempts did not succeed.

Earl Collard played the Grainger tape to William C. Hopkins. He was so impressed he immediately set out to put together a program for a presentation to the USA Section of the ICD, to create a project for TV interviews and to adequately fund the project.

Earl and Bill studied and worked many hours to put together a proposal, outlining the purpose of the project, objectives, and an agenda was proposed for a meeting with College Registrar Frank Kenward, Richard Adelson, and film editor George Karakus from the TV media at the University of Oklahoma in Oklahoma City, November 18, 1983.

The group developed a most important aspect of this proposal, that being our purpose. The purpose of this project is to:

- (1) Plan and implement a series of videotaped interviews with elder statesmen who have made significant contributions to the art, science and profession of dentistry.
- (2) To develop a plan for publicity, storage and distribution of these videotapes.
- (3) To make recommendations about potential uses of these tapes and to target audiences.

"The presentation required time and research."

The Ad Hoc group developed a presentation to give at the next meeting of the Board of Regents. A great deal of time and research went into the development of this project. Richard Adelson and Dr. Fran Watkins, Chairman of the Department of Continuing Education at the University of Oklahoma, gave very generously of their time as consultants to develop this project. With their expertise a pilot program was developed which was funded by the USA Section of the College. H.O. "Westy" Westerdahl, our Secretary-General Emeritus, was chosen to be the candidate interviewed. Frank Kenward, who at the time was our Registrar and Secretary-General was chosen to do the interview. The interview was taped at the University of Oklahoma TV studios on the Health Sciences Center campus, Friday, March 16, 1984, in Oklahoma City. William Hopkins suggested a tape be made with Frank Kenward being the candidate. This interview was taped with Bill Hopkins acting as the interviewer. Frank provided the Audio-Visual library with a great deal of history of the International College of Dentists.

The program being put together, the pilot films completed, Bill Hopkins requested the Board of Regents accept the project and fund it properly so it could be an ongoing project. At its Atlanta meeting in 1984, the Board accepted the entire proposal. The first committee members of The Audio-Visual History Committee were appointed by President Richard Rice. The members were: Frank Herbert, Earl Collard, and William Hopkins, Chairman.

The committee began to plan immediately for our first taping in 1985. It selected Dr. Harold Hillenbrand as our first candidate to interview. This interview was filmed in April, 1985. Richard Adelson was the interviewer. The ICD is the only group that has ANY video tape of Dr. Hillenbrand.

"A great deal of history provided."

---

Dr. Maynard K. Hine was interviewed the same day. These were two giants which we, the committee, captured on videotape for the AV History library.

Thirty-six videotapes have been produced during the past nine years. We have filmed in Washington, DC on several occasions in order to videotape a dignitary from another country while he or she was in Washington. It would have been impossible to bring these people to Oklahoma for a taping session. The video committee has sent our producer-director to Washington in order to maintain the continuity and high quality of productions. Penn Cline, from the TV Media Production at the University of Oklahoma, was a camera man at our first taping and has been involved in all of our tapings. Mr. Cline is now in charge of the TV Media Department and still maintains a vital and enthusiastic attitude toward the ICD project.

Earl Collard, Bill Hopkins, and Chairman Richard Adelson are continuing to produce professional quality tapes, at a very reasonable cost, to insure the ongoing development of our audio-visual library.

These video tapes of outstanding leaders in our profession are intended for use in presentation to professional associations, societies, dental schools, for libraries and for those who have a personal interest in the profession of dentistry. To order these tapes contact the ICD Central Office at 51 Monroe Street, Suite 1501, Rockville, Maryland, 20850-2408 or call (301) 251-8861.

Exceptional dental leaders in the series:

1. Harold Hillenbrand

Dr. Hillenbrand is probably the best known of all dentistry's leaders because of his long tenure (23 years) and accomplishments as dentistry's foremost leader. Harold was recognized world-wide for his leadership and his being the architect of many enduring programs. Above all, he had a clear vision of what the American profession, and even the world destiny should be and brought it to fruition. The ADA can be considered a monument to his financial acumen, his belief in making no little plans and for his abiding faith in the ongoing future of dentistry. Just to list his honors, degrees from universities everywhere, recognitions from foreign governments and honorary membership in other disciplines would require a voluminous separate publication.

"Harold had a clear vision."

---

2. Maynard K. Hine

Dr. Hine is considered one of the nation's outstanding dental educators. Upon returning to his dental alma mater, the University of Indiana, he led that school to become one of the outstanding dental schools in the country. He is also active in journalism, the author of many books, articles, and research and has served as the president of the American Dental Association.

3. George W. Ferguson

After twenty-two years on active duty with the U.S. Navy, he served as guest worker at the National Bureau of Standards and was also a brilliant and exceptionally skilled operator. He later joined the faculty of the State University of New York at Buffalo School of Dentistry. He is best known for his leadership in operative dentistry and was featured on 29 scientific programs and 51 others throughout the country and ten programs in foreign countries.

4. Miles R. Markley

An exponent of conservative cavity preparation, he has been credited with combining pins with amalgam for restorations and foundations. A noted lecturer, he is a documented "half million miler" in commercial air travel. He was presenter in all 48 states, 22 U.S. schools and ten foreign schools. A number of his publications are used as teaching material in many dental schools.

"A vow made to never remove another tooth."

5. Lindsey D. Pankey

After vowing to never remove another tooth, he focused on patient communication and the analysis and study of articulation and occlusion and how to work to the highest standards. These were reflected in the success of his practice and his teaching other dentists. The Pankey Institute, with his techniques, was founded and grew to national recognition with hundreds of dentists learning his technique.

6. Clifton O. Dummett

A specialist in periodontics and oral health, an outstanding clinician, a superior investigator, a superb teacher and an able administrator, he has made major contributions to the field of dental health problems to the public and by focusing the attitude of the profession on the needs of underserved populations.

7. Ralph W. Phillips

For decades he was one of the foremost authorities in the field of dental materials science and research. Throughout an eminent career that spanned 50 years he was widely recognized as the most dynamic and sought after lecturer. He appeared on more than 1,000 programs in the U.S. and around the world and authored 300 scientific papers and books including the Science of Dental Materials, one of the most widely used textbooks in history.

8. Elbert O. Thompson

A general practitioner, he is the pioneer and developer of the "washed field dentistry", the "canister tray" concept and the "Euthenics dentistry" concept. A leader in gold foil technique and practice administrator, he served on faculties of several dental schools. He was a noted lecturer before many local, state and national organizations.

9. Jeanne C. Sinkford

A distinguished dental educator of international reknown, administrator, lecturer and clinician, she became the first female head of a prosthetics department and later became the first and only female dean of a dental school, Howard University School of Dentistry. She has authored over 70 publications, notably a manual on crown and bridge prosthodontics and a curriculum for dental materials and oral physiology.

---

as dental disease."

10. Maury Massler

He stressed that dental caries is a disease of the mouth and should be treated as an oral infection and that restorations or appliances placed in an active carious mouth break down very quickly. A teacher, researcher, lecturer, dean and author, he appeared on over 400 programs, was a consultant to seven foreign dental schools and contributed pages to dental journals and authored or co-authored six textbooks.

11. Wilbur E. Eames

Known best for his research studies in the various factors in proportioning mercury and alloy ratios and condensing amalgam, the influence of clinical variables in marginal adaptation, evaluation of trituration and condensing and other studies. He was a prodigious contributor to major dental journals and was a presenter for over 100 programs, television demonstrations, seminars and panel discussions across the U.S. and abroad.

12. Earl E. Shepherd

A tribute to Dr. Shepherd noted that he was a giant among men, respected by his peers, admired by his contemporaries and loved by those he served as mentor. As an author and teacher of orthodontics, his skill in organizational work marked his prominence as a leader. Through his guidance the American Board of Orthodontics emerged as one of the most respected certifying boards in dentistry.

13. Nelson W. Rupp

His experience is divided between general dentistry, dental materials research, and education. His over 35 publications in major dental journals dealt with denture base materials, amalgams, cements, composite resins, acid etch retention, and mercury hygiene in the dental office. He is best known for his study of dental composites and dental bonding. His service as a research associate for the ADA and as associate director of the National Bureau of Standards highlighted his career.

14. William E. Brown, Jr.

With a wealth of experience in dental education with the University of Michigan School of Dentistry, he was named associate director of the W.K. Kellogg Foundation Institute for Graduate and Post-graduate Dentistry. Among his activities at the national level was his service as a consultant to the ADA Council on Dental Education and as a member of the ADA Task Force which developed the National Children's Dental Health Program. Later he was named the first dean of the yet to be built University of Oklahoma School of Dentistry.

“Dental education recognized in Graduate and Post-graduate values.”

15. David E. Barmes

Following the discovery of a group of New Guineans who were free of dental disease, he led a special study in the etiology of the disease. He has been active in epidemiological and dental services in many countries of the world. After serving in the Dental Health Standing Community of the National Health and Medical Research Council of Australia and the WHO Expert Advisory Panel on Dental Health, he was appointed chief, Oral Health of the WHO.

16. A. Gordon Rowell

After a long and distinguished active military career, he was appointed Director of Dental Services Army Headquarters and chairman of Dental Services of the Department of Defense in Australia. He was active in dental journalism and made major contributions to the field of prosthodontics as a teacher, author, and research worker and made many contributions to dentistry, both at home and abroad.

17. Basil G. Bibby

As senior scientist emeritus and former director of the Eastman Dental Center, Dr. Bibby had a long and distinguished career in dental research and education. He is credited with first proving that fluoride reaction with the enamel surface would prevent caries. He encouraged and trained researchers in dentistry, advanced knowledge about the role of oral bacteria, the effect saliva has on the ecological balance in the mouth, and pioneered research into the cariogenicity of food.

“Knowledge of role of saliva on the mouth.”

---

18. Robert B. Shira

A distinguished oral surgeon, former Chief of the U.S. Army Dental Corps (Major General), teacher and dean of Tufts University Dental School, he has been a lecturer and clinician at dental meetings in all 50 states and 24 foreign countries. A prolific writer and editor, he has contributed more than 50 articles to the dental literature, written chapters in 12 dental textbooks, produced 14 dental teaching films for clinicians, served as an editor, and is a past president of the ADA.

19. Jens Pindborg

As an author of 20 books and 360 papers on oral biology, he has given guest lectures in 34 countries and has served as editor or associate editor of 9 journals. Dr. Pindborg was on the scientific expedition for WHO to New Guinea and consultant on field surveys on oral precancer in five countries. He is a noted researcher and authority on odontogenic tumors and allied lesions and heads the EEC Clearing House for oral problems related to the HIV infection.

20. Alvin L. Morris

Dr. Morris is a noted educator specializing in dental therapeutics and administration. He was named dean of the University of Kentucky School of Dentistry, became special assistant to the president of U.K. and was later elevated to vice-president for administration of the university. In 1976 he was named Executive Director of the Association for Academic Health Center located in Washington D.C. In 1979 he was appointed Director of the University of Pennsylvania School of Dental Medicine's Long Range Planning Committee, and chaired the seven member Search Committee for a new ADA Executive Director.

21. Harold Loe

Leaving his position as Dean and Professor of Periodontology at the University of Connecticut School of Dental Medicine, he became the Director of the National Institute of Dental Research. He retired in 1994. During his tenure he fostered the growth of oral health science from a narrow concern with teeth and gums to a broader discipline encompassing

---

“Known for dental disease research.”

all the oral and craniofacial tissues as well as behaviors associated with the cause and prevention of disease and the maintenance of health. He is internationally known for his contribution to dental disease research, his world-wide lectures, and authorship of over 300 papers.

22. Jacob Freedland

Dr. Jacob B. Freedland, an endodontist, is a past president of the American Association of Endodontist, the American Institute of Oral Sciences and is a former director of the American Board of Endodontics. He has served as lecturer consultant for the US Naval Dental School and as consultant/advisor on its Graduate Dental Training Program. Dr. Freedland serves also as a consultant for the US Army Institute of Dental Research. He has been awarded the Pierre Fauchard Academy Award, the Thomas P. Hinman Medallion of Meritorious Service, the Distinguished Service Award from the AGD, and the Distinguished Alumnus Award from the University of North Carolina.

23. Irwin D. Mandel

Although probably best known for his early studies of gingival fluid and dental plaque, he has created a body of literature that has formed a cornerstone of modern-day preventive dentistry.

---

“Research is a means to advance the practice of dentistry.”

As an educator, researcher, and author, Dr. Mandel has motivated others to use research as a means to advance the practice of dentistry. He has served as consultant to the ADA's Council on Dental Therapeutics, chaired the Council on Dental Research, and served on the ADA's Special Committee on the Future of Dentistry. In 1985 he was awarded the ADA's Gold Medal for Excellence in Dental Research.

24. Nikolai M. Petrovic

Born in Vienna of Russian parentage and background, Nikolai graduated from Monmouth College with a major in journalism and sociology. Working first with Eastern Airlines, he was hired as Director of Special Projects (annual convention and educational programs) for the American Health Care Association. He then became the chief executive of the Packaged Ice Association. Since 1977 he has been president of the American Dental Trade Association. In 1980 he was elected to a term as chairman of the Greater Washington Society of Association Executives, the youngest chairman in that organization's history.

25. José Medina

Beginning his academic career in operative dentistry, he investigated epoxy resin die materials and elastometric impression materials in improving the quality of cast gold restorations. Another area of study involved instrumentation for both rotary and hand cutting tooth structure with its associated factors. Author and teacher, his most significant contribution made to dentistry has been in the field of dental education. He moved rapidly through stages of professorship to Associate Dean of the University of Maryland Dental School. His capabilities were soon recognized as he participated in the founding of the new University of Florida School of Dentistry. He later became dean of that school and then was named associate vice president for Facilities, Planning and Operation at the J. Hillis Miller Health Center of the University of Florida.

26. Sigurd P. Ramfjord

An internationally renowned lecturer, Dr. Ramfjord has won numerous awards for his research efforts in periodontics and oral pathology. He is professor emeritus of the department of periodontics at the University of Michigan School of Dentistry. He has played an active role in many professional organizations, is a former director and chairman of the board of the American Board of Periodontics and served 20 years as a dental consultant to the WHO in Geneva. He has published more than 130 articles and co-authored textbooks on periodontics and occlusion.

“Noted for research in periodontics and oral pathology.”

27. Enid A. Neidle

Dr. Neidle is a noted and foremost authority in physiology as well as an outstanding researcher in pharmacology/therapeutics, an educator, a prolific writer (over 60 publications) and a reknowned for the ADA for 6½ years, and has been an outstanding spokeswoman for the profession. Dr. Neidle has held consultant positions for numerous organizations. A recipient of a large number of honors and awards, she is an honorary Fellow in the ICD, an honorary member of the ADA, and received the Colgate Palmolive/ADA Award for Outstanding Service to the Public and Profession.

“A noted educator as well as a sought-after speaker.”

28. Arthur A. Dugoni

One of America's outstanding orthodontists, he is also known for his role as an educator, writer and lecturer, and organized dentistry leader. Even while maintaining a private practice in orthodontics he became an educator. Dr. Dugoni pioneered and initiated the primary and mixed dentition orthodontic clinic at the University of the Pacific in 1963. He moved through many faculty chairs and became Dean of the School of Dentistry, UOP in 1978. Dr. Dugoni has presented more than 500 lectures, papers, and clinics and has authored over 100 published articles. As a leader he has been president of the CDA, the American Board of Orthodontics, the American Association of Dental Schools, was a member of the ADA House of Delegates, and an ADA Trustee. He has been awarded Alumnus of the Year by four universities, and has received the Hinman Medallion for Leadership, the Albert H. Ketcham Award, the Gold Medallion and Merit Award, the Chairman's Award from American Dental Trade Association, and the President's Citation from the ADA.

29. James P. Verneti

Recognized as one of our nation's authorities in operative dentistry, Dr. Verneti was born in Glove, AZ of immigrant parents. As a leader in his field he has served as Chief of Staff at

“Named 1 of 10 "Legends in Operative Dentistry.”

---

Coronado, CA, Hospital, has been assistant clinical professor of operative dentistry at the UCLA School of Dentistry, moved on to become associate clinical professor at the Loma Linda School of Dentistry, and finally joined the University of Texas School of Dentistry at San Antonio as full professor of operative dentistry where, in his honor, the Verneti Award of Excellence was established. Dr. Verneti holds membership in 16 professional international and US dental organizations, has been president of three national and two international organizations. He has been the recipient of four Fellowships, the Academy of Operative Dentistry's Award of Excellence, the Freedom Foundation Award and was cited by the Northwestern University School of Dentistry as one of the ten "Legends in Operative Dentistry." He has made clinical presentations in nine foreign countries and many US presentations.

30. Clifford M. Sturdevant

Dr. Sturdevant has been known world-wide as a leader in dental education and as an authority on operative dentistry. Throughout his long career, he has been actively involved in numerous dental organizations, and in fact was a charter member of the Academy of Operative Dentistry. Among his most noteworthy accomplishments was the textbook, The Art and Science of Operative Dentistry, first published in 1968. This textbook is still recognized as a leading textbook in operative dentistry. He has been an innovator in the realm of operative dentistry for years. Not only did he invent or codesign many devices such as the light body injection syringe for impression materials, "Jiffy tubes" for cement application, and various instrument and bur designs, but he also introduced numerous progressive concepts in operative dentistry that are still used today. The 1995 Academy of Operative Dentistry Award of Excellence was presented to Dr. Sturdevant.

places." Nothing could be more true about Charlie Norwood.

His visionary thinking has always brought rewards to those he served. As president of the GDA in the early 1980s, Charlie saw the limitations of capitation dentistry and initiated sessions for dentists to learn about HMOs, capitation plans, and the like. At that time he identified Direct Reimbursement as an important method to distribute dental benefits. In speaking about dentistry in the 1980s he said, "this is an exciting time for our profession. It is a time for change and challenges. We should welcome change and savor challenges because they open up opportunities to shape the future of a great profession."

Charlie's efforts to meet the challenges and seize the opportunities have been so impressive that the United States Business and Industrial Council awarded him this year's "Fighting Frosh Award," a recognition given to the freshman Congressman who displays the greatest willingness to battle for American business by fighting excessive government regulation and taxation.

Charles W. Norwood, Jr., husband, father, dentist, ICD member and Congressman, is always available to face the challenges and never backs down from the fight. ■

CEC XIII is a smashing success

Special events added spice to the meeting

Led by a Leadership Conference that was very productive, the following FREE Continuing Education Conference XIII proved to be one of the best as we found knowledge, fun and fellowship.

Founded in Colonial days as a major port in the emerging new nation, Baltimore continues to be a waterfront city. The city is rich in history, displaying it with pride, that takes us back in time but is also one that is revitalized, fun, and exciting with its contemporary blend of history – traditional and modern.

With the shimmering Inner Harbor and its wonderful sights and accompanying dramatic skyline as our home base in the Hyatt Regency Hotel, we entered our conference with enthusiasm and verve.

The clinical presentations were useful, practical and superb. A variety of offerings held our rapt attention as Dr. Van P. Thompson presented an exceptional speech on Operative Dentistry, Dr. Lynn Mouden delivered a dynamic message on Child Abuse, Dr. Harold Crossley brought an enlightening presentation on Street Drugs, and Dr. Paul Manson, M.D., spoke eloquently on Aesthetic Surgery. The attendees all declared these to be smashing successes.

Equally outstanding were the things we did with our free time. Who will ever forget the history that unfolded as we visited the oldest American warship afloat, the US Frigate Constitution, the building from which Samuel Morse sent the first telegraph message, the famous B & O Railroad Museum, the home of the Declaration of Independence signer Charles Carroll, and Edgar Allen Poe's gravesite. Your hearts must have beat with pride as you stood within Fort McHenry with its battle of 1812 prominence of being the inspiration for Francis Scott Key's "Star Spangled Banner."

We also stepped into the present with visits to the submarine Tork, embarked on a sightseeing cruise aboard the luxurious Bay Lady with its magnificent crab feast buffet, and took part in an outstanding narrative walking tour of the historic area of Annapolis led by Colonial attired guides. Following this, we took a walking tour of the US Naval Academy including the Naval Academy Chapel, and the Crypt of John Paul Jones, our great naval hero. We then boarded the Harbor Queen to cruise the harbor and the Severn River. Our day climaxed with a delicious buffet dinner at the restored Governor Calvert House.

You missed it? Then take part in another wonderful experience by scheduling your attendance at future FREE CEC's beginning with the 1996 session at BEAVER CREEK, COLORADO on July 25-27, 1996. ■

Our Section and the Maryland Chapter cooperate in the International Student Exchange Program

Two reports by participating students enhance the value of our project

Dentistry in Ireland presents a dichotomy compared to the United States dentistry. The academic program is typically European, in that students enter the dental curriculum while still in college. After graduating from secondary school and taking the Leaving Certs (a screening exam for college admissions), they enter the dental program. Two years are focused on sciences and basic dentistry and the final two years are spent in the dental hospital working on patients, as well as a more in depth dental curriculum. In essence, this would be equivalent to a 2-3 year college education in the United States followed by dental school.

On the average, the graduating dentist would be approximately three years younger than a United States graduate. The classic dental courses in the basic sciences are similar. The texts are similar, equipment, and supplies are international and concepts and techniques are equivalent. This is due in fact to international exchange of professional ideas between the United States and Europe. The International College of Dentists is one of the facilitating groups in the exchange of professional ideas.

Irish and Maryland Exchange Students sponsored by the ICD and the Maryland Chapter: Patrick Carey (U. College Cork), Pamela Martin (U.MD), Judith O'Meara (U. College Cork), Maura Cuffee (Trinity College U. of Dublin) and Andrew Colgan (U.MD).

The private practice aspect both from the generalist and the specialist that I encountered in my travels is a little bit dissimilar to the United States. The pace and stress factor in Southern Ireland in the cities or the countryside is more akin to an outer suburban or small town United States practice. The stress factor and production levels, by comparison to the United States, are considerably less. Quality of care is not compromised, even though fees are lower and national health is dominant. The patient education is improving, but still would be classified somewhat below the average United States dental interest. There is still a significant percentage who opt for extractions and either removable or no replacement. However, the younger generations are certainly more aware of all health and are asking for more comprehensive dentistry. The dentist is still a respected member of the community, but generally is titled as mister unless they achieve the Ph.D. program.

The International College of Dentists program was an opportunity for professional and collegial exchange. It was welcomed by the faculty at the school, the private practitioner, and the students at the hospital with sincere cordiality and great interest. They looked upon it as an opportunity for an exchange of ideas, techniques, and fraternization. This, from our standpoint, was a wonderful opportunity to compare and get some different professional viewpoints in different dental treatments. This certainly has enhanced and internationalized my view on dentistry. This is a program that is of significant value to both the United States and Ireland and should be maintained for the benefit of the dental profession.

The Ireland Externship Program between the University College Cork Dental School and the University of Maryland at Baltimore Dental School, sponsored by the International College of Dentists, is an excellent program that has benefited me both professionally and personally. I was able to gain insight into the practice of dentistry in Ireland as well as experience the culture of a lovely country.

I spent the first week of my externship at the offices of dental practitioners within the city of Cork. During my day with a oral and maxillofacial surgeon, I was able to assist with several surgical procedures including the placement of osseointegrated dental implants. During the course of our day together, we were able to compare and contrast the practice of clinical oral and maxillofacial surgery as practiced in the United States and in Ireland. While there were many similarities, the most striking difference to me was in the quantity of patients seen in a typical day. While many practitioners in the United States maintain several treatment rooms and see many patients during the course of a day, I was informed that most practitioners in Ireland maintain one treatment room and see five to six patients during a typical day. After speaking with the practitioners I spent time with, I came to appreciate the fact that seeing less patients in a day lent itself to a higher quality of dentistry and less stress on the practitioner.

During the third week of my externship, I spent time at the dental school. The dental school at Cork is based at the regional hospital at Cork. In addition to the program in undergraduate dental education, the dental school has a program in dental hygiene which was founded two years ago. The practice of dental hygiene by licensed dental hygienists under the supervision of dentists is not as prevalent in Ireland as it is in the U.S. Most general practitioners in Ireland perform hygiene procedures on their patients and do not utilize licensed hygienists. By starting the hygiene school, the hope is to begin to utilize the team approach to overall patient management that is popular in the United States. The dental school also houses a state of the art Oral Health Services Research Center. It was established in 1983 for the purpose of conducting oral health science research projects. Services available include trial design, protocol writing, clearance with regulatory bodies, recruitment and screening of volunteers, stratification procedures, impartial interviewing techniques, clinical studies, validation procedures, microbiological measurements, biochemical tests, quality control, statistical analysis and report writing. The center was founded by Dr. Denis O'Mullane.

During the second week of my externship I was free to tour the country of Ireland. I spent several days on the west coast traveling from County Kerry to County Mayo, where I was able to meet up with members of my family, both from the U.S. and from Ireland. It was a wonderful experience to see how beautiful the country of Ireland is. The people who I met along the way were friendly and outgoing and went to great lengths to ensure that I was having a pleasant stay.

My overall assessment of the externship program to Ireland is a very favorable one. While the experience will not give a student much knowledge in terms of clinical skills, the program has much to offer in terms of experiencing the profession of dentistry from a different perspective.

With the approval of the USA Section Board of Regents of the International College of Dentists (ICD), the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland at Baltimore (BCDS) was the recipient of a grant to participate in the 1994 International College of Dentists Student Exchange Program. This grant was made available through the efforts of ICD Regent Dr. Harry W.F. Dressel, Jr., and Deputy Regent for Maryland, Dr. William R. Patteson, in cooperation with Dean Richard R. Ranney and Dr. Richard G. Shaffer, Secretary General, ICD. The Dental Schools of University College Cork (UCC) and Trinity College, University of Dublin (TCD), in Ireland agreed to join with BCDS in this exchange program with the support of Dean Louis Buckley (UCC) and Dean Diarmuid B. Shanley (TCD). The BCDS coordinators for this program were Dr. Mark L. Wagner, professor, department of pediatric dentistry, and Dr. Margaret B. Wilson, assistant dean for admissions and student affairs. In Ireland the coordinators were Dr. Robin O'Sullivan, anatomy department, UCC, and Dr. Liam Convery, head of pediatric dentistry, Dublin Dental Hospital, TCD.

The ICD grant allowed for the

funding of round trip air fare and $150 for each of the student participants. Two students from BCDS and two Irish students (one each from UCC and TCD) were to be selected for the Exchange. As a result of an application process at each school Ms. Pamela Martin and Mr. Andrew Colgan, senior dental students, were selected to represent the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery; and Ms. Judith O'Meara (UCC) and Ms. Maura Cuffe (TCD), both final year students, were selected to represent their respective dental schools.

The first student exchange took place in mid-June when the students from Ireland arrived in Baltimore. Due to differences in the academic calendars of the dental schools, the BCDS students were scheduled for their trip in August. The duration of each visit was three-four weeks, and this allowed the students to meet each other. Local Baltimore area dentists, Dr. Sharon Welton and Dr. Mary O'Reilly, graciously provided housing for Ms. O'Meara and Ms. Cuffe. Accompanying them was Patrick Carey, another student from UCC. While he did not receive the financial support, accommodations were arranged through Dr. John Dermody, a BCDS postdoctoral endodontics student from Ireland.

All of the students were to have the opportunity to observe first hand the dental education, practice of dentistry, health care system and culture of the USA and Ireland. The Irish students attended clinics in every discipline, including the predoctoral general practice area and the advanced specialty clinics in endodontics, pediatric dentistry, periodontics, orthodontics, prosthodontics, and oral and maxillofacial surgery. They were exposed to research areas in the biological sciences, as well as clinical research in pharmacology and oral medicine.

Dr. Patteson and Dr. Albert L. Ousborne, Jr., ICD member, coordinated visits to their offices, as well as the offices of a local endodontist and an oral maxillofacial surgeon. A highlight for the Irish students was a visit and tour of the National Institutes of Health (NIH) and the National Institute of Dental Research (NIDR). This was arranged by Drs. Anne and Brian O'Connell who are natives of Ireland and currently on staff at NIDR. Dr. Anne O'Connell is a part-time lecturer at BCDS and a former full-time member of the pediatric dentistry faculty. Judy, Maura and Pat had time for sightseeing in Washington and Annapolis, and trips to Boston and New York were also planned. At the time of this writing, Ms. Martin and Mr. Colgan were looking forward to having comparable experiences in Ireland, having started their exchange program on July 30. In addition to their anticipated visits to Cork and Dublin, they were looking forward to having the opportunity to meet one of their faculty from home, Dr. John Bergquist, chair of pedodontics at BCDS, who is on sabbatical at TCD. Dr. Bergquist, a Fellow of the ICD, was anxiously awaiting their visit.

This exchange program is a very valuable experience, and similar programs will be planned for the future. All of the dental schools, BCDS, UCC and TCD, are most appreciative for the support of the ICD. The students will long remember their experiences and the work of the ICD in making this opportunity possible. ■

International Student Exchange

OBJECTIVE:

The Objective of the Program is to share Knowledge, Experience, Environment and to observe the Educational Process in other parts of the world.

To successfully implement the program whereby the USA Section would support travel to and return for the exchange pair of students. Interested universities should contact the Central Office at (301) 251-8861 for a complete procedure protocol for the program.

Detailed advance planning is required to insure success of this valuable project of the USA Section. Contact the Central Office for assistance.

District 1 CONNECTICUT

Former NIDR Harald Löe recently received the Gold Medal Award for Excellence in Dental Research sponsored by the ADA and Cheseborough – Ponds, USA. James H. Gaines, immediate past president of the ADA presented the award. The Gold Medal is bestowed every three years to an individual, who through basic or clinical research, has contributed to the advancement of the profession of dentistry or to major improvements in the oral health of the public.

Harald received the award for a number of outstanding contributions, including his landmark research on the relationship of plaque to periodontal disease.

MASSACHUSETTS

M. Michael Cohen, an internationally known authority on pedodontics, dentistry for the handicapped and dental research, died in October, 1994.

He received his DMD from Tufts Dental School in 1928 and while a student was elevated to the Robert R. Andrews Society for the Promotion of Research. His academic career began as an instructor at Tufts and culminated in his being Associate Professor Emeritus of Oral Pediatrics. He was also assistant professor of pediatrics at Tufts University School of Medicine, visiting instructor at the Forsythe Dental Infirmary, associate dental surgeon at Beth Israel and staff member at the New England Medical Center Hospital.

After retirement, he became senior associate in pedodontics at Harvard's School of Medicine Children's Hospital and lecturer in the Department of Oral Medicine and Oral Pathology at Harvard's dental school. The M. Michael Cohen Endowed Teaching and Research Fund has been established in his honor at that school.

As a dedicated practitioner, teacher and researcher, he influenced thousands of colleagues and patients. As an internationally recognized stomatologist, he was awarded multiple citations of recognition and excellence.

As a prolific writer he authored over 70 scientific papers, a number of textbooks, and contributed to many journals.

NEW ENGLAND

Boston University School of Graduate Dentistry has announced the completion of a seven year, $1 million campaign to establish the Herbert Schilder chair in endodontics. The chair honors Dr. Schilder, founder, professor and chairman of the Department of Endodontics at the school. Dean Spencer Frankl said "This endowment honors Dr. Schilder's distinguished service to the school as an academician, author, teacher, and mentor to students and faculty alike. It recognizes a man of dedication, wisdom, and leadership". The chair was established to provide salary support for faculty and to support student research, conferences, and seminars. Dean Frankl also singled out Harold Levin's relentless work in fund raising for the chair.

Minoru Horiuchi has been appointed to the Dean Junior College Board of Trustees. Dr. Horiuchi practices pediatric dentistry and orthodontics and is involved in numerous civic and social organizations. He was elected to the Board of Governors of the Boston Athletic Association in 1991 and continues to serve as the official liaison between the Boston Marathon and Japanese runners. Minoru held the finishing tape for the women's division of the 1995 Boston Marathon.

A panel discussion which included some preeminent local ICD members was held during the 125th Anniversary celebration of Tufts University School of Dental Medicine. Lloyd Miller, Robert Hunter, John Hein, and Kathy O'loughlin debated "The future of Dentistry: Where are we going and how will we get there." Also during the celebration Joseph Distasio and Floyd Williams were honored for meritorious service to the school and the profession.

Erling Johansen, dean of Tufts Dental School, received an honorary Doctor of Humanities degree from the New England School of Law. An internationally recognized researcher, Dean

DISTRICT REPORTS

Johansen is widely known for his pioneering work in dental care for cancer patients undergoing radiation therapy.

On June 7, 1993 Alvin Krakow, director of the former Harvard/Forsythe Postdoctoral Endodontic Program embarked on a 3,400 mile cross-country bicycle trip that began in Seattle and ended in New Jersey. This extra ordinary trek fulfilled his lifelong dream of biking cross-country, and through the generosity of his many sponsors, raised $20,000 for the Krakow Endodontic Research Fund. The fund was established several years ago by former faculty and graduates of the program.

A Boston television news station recently aired a segment on certain individuals in the community who have made a difference. Included was the story of Kenneth Kahn, an endodontist, who has been a volunteer at the "Bridge Over Troubled Waters", a medical and dental clinic for runaway and troubled teens. Kenny has been a dedicated worker at the facility for over ten years, donating one evening per month to care for some unfortunate, yet grateful, young patients. Even after a long day in his office, he enjoys his work at the clinic, seeing a great many patients with challenging problems. When asked why he would donate so much time out of a busy schedule, he replied, "To see these kids smile!"

The annual ICD Luncheon, New England Chapter, was held in conjunction with the Yankee Dental Congress. There was great representation from all the New England States. Cyril Gaum,

Regent of District One, welcomed all attendees and the guest speaker, Dr. Marc Bard.

Recently Alvin Arlen Krakow faced personal and physical challenges on a cross-country bicycle ride to raise funds for endodontic research. He joined a tour, to prove to himself, his wife, and his fellow endodontists that he could bike across the United States even though he was 64 years old and had never cycled more than 23 miles in one day. Riding an average of 80 miles a day for seven weeks, Al took advantage of this opportunity to raise $30,000 for the Krakow Endodontic Research Fund at the Forsythe Dental Center. "Cycling across the U.S. at an average of 10-12 m.p.h. allows you to hear the birds and smell the wildflowers; compare the kindness of rural people to the intensity of busy city dwellers; contrast the beauty of the Cascade, Rocky and Appalaichian mountains with the stark vastness of the Great Plains; adjust to extreme weather conditions - freezing cold in the mountains, boiling heat in the lowlands; and bond with a diverse band of fellow riders. And when it was all over, I realized how fit I had become in many ways." Al is organizing a cross-country ride for fellow dentists. The ride will be initiated next year and accomplished in one or two week intervals over a period of five years.

On April 28, 1995 a reception was held honoring Erling Johansen upon the occasion of his retirement as Dean of Tufts University Dental School. During his sixteen year tenure research funding had doubled and the school now receives the largest number of applications of any dental school in the country. An Endowed Professorship in Dental Research has been established in his honor.

On September 23, 1994 the first Dr. J. Murray Gavel Clinical Research Lecture was held at Forsythe Dental Center. The keynote speaker was Dr. Bruce Baum. Later in the meeting Dr. Gavel was presented with a Proclamation from Massachusetts in recognition of his devotion as a teacher and clinician in the field of dentistry for more than a half century. Roy Rinkle, chair, Gavel Lectureship Committee, presented the proclamation on behalf of Governor William Weld.

Pennsylvania Team faced grisly work

Pittsburgh dental students join FBI & anthropologists in melding expertise to identify victims

The daunting task of identifying bodies in the scattered wreckage of Flight 427 brought together an unlikely team of FBI agents, dental students, dental faculty and anthropologists.

With many of the bodies burned, dismembered and scattered through the wooded Beaver County area, this diverse team worked days and weeks to put together a puzzle from which significant pieces are missing. Dental records, fingerprints and the location of each body fragment will be analyzed.

But first the crash scene has to be photographed, diagrammed, sketched and staked out so it can be reconstructed later. No detail can be overlooked, because its importance may not be recognized until later.

Two of the most critical clues the workers will be looking for are teeth and fingerprints, said medical examiner Dr. Charles Stahl of the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology in Washington, D.C.

No other structures in the body are so durable and fastidiously documented as teeth. A replaced tooth, a crown, a filling — even the particular kind of filling — can lead investigators to a positive identification.

Faculty and approximately 70 dental students of the University of Pittsburgh School of Dental Medicine, led by Jon B. Suzuki, dean and professor, were among those helping to identify the remains of victims of USAir Flight 427, which crashed outside of Pittsburgh on Sept. 8, 1994.

District 3 was well represented in New Orleans in October, 1994, when new Fellows were inducted into the College. Tradition was upheld as we continued with our annual breakfast on October 21, 1994, honoring our new Fellows and their spouses at the Sheraton, New Orleans. This tradition was begun some years ago by R.E.V. Miller, Jr. and this year the affair was held in the same hotel in the same room and with the same menu as was served at the initial breakfast. All spouses received a corsage as a token of our appreciation for their loved one receiving the honor of ICD Fellowship. Included on the guest list that morning were Dick Schoessler, Al and Florence Fallavollita, and Camille Kostalec-Cherry, PDA Executive Director. An enjoyable time was had by all and we look forward to continuing this District 3 tradition.

On the state level, Regent Nicholas Saccone was elected president of the Pierre Fouchard Academy and will assume the presidency this year in Las Vegas. Also William Yeomans receives our sincere thanks and admiration for heading the PDAIT (Pennsylvania Dental Association Identification Team) which was responsible for the identification of the victims of the tragic USAir 427 crash in Pittsburgh last September. The efforts of the entire PDAIT deserve our sincere thanks for service above and beyond the call of duty.

Simon Horkowitz of Emmaus was the recipient of this year's Pennsylvania Dental Association Annual Award, presented during the PDA Annual Meeting in Pittsburgh on May 20, 1995. Si has continually served organized dentistry during his illustrious career and the award is well deserved. Congratulations Si!

In other PDA activities, Don Lavelly assumed the PDA presidency from John Staubach, Gaetan Lavalla was elected to the office of president-elect and George Kirchner was elected Speaker of the House of the PDA. Vice-Regent Raymond Lancione was elected to the office of PDA Secretary.

The Pennsylvania Chapter congratulates our own John B. Lathrop and anticipates his assuming the ICD presidency of the USA Section during our meeting in Las Vegas. Best wishes John and have a GREAT year.

District 4 DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

Albert G. Paulsen has received Georgetown University School of Dentistry's Alumni highest honor, the Distinguished Service Award for 1995.

Following graduation, he joined the staff of the periodontal department of that school and for 45 years continued his clinical and didactic teaching career in periodontics and occlusion. Albert has served his school and the profession of dentistry with unwavering loyalty. His commitment to his profession has served as an example, not only for his friends and colleagues but also for the countless students he has helped educate.

His talents have been recognized by distinctions, including serving as consultant to many organizations. He has been involved in and held positions of responsibility in many local and state organizations.

A long time friend and supporter of West Virginia Community College, Albert G. Paulsen, was recently awarded the honorary degree Associate of Humane Letters by NOVA. He was instrumental in the establishment of dental science programs at NOVA. He is a Ret. Rear Admiral of the US Navy Dental Corps Reserve having served his nation from 1942-1977. As a diplomat of the American Board of Periodontology, he has acted as consultant to the US Army and Navy. In addition, Dr. Paulsen served 12 years on the West Virginia's Governors Advisory Committee on Education for the Health Professions.

MARYLAND

The Maryland Chapter, at the annual business meeting in November, presented the George B. Clendenin Award to a student from the Baltimore College of Dentistry, Dental School, University of Maryland at Baltimore. The Clendenin Award was established by Gary Clendenin, a member of the Maryland chapter, and the son of the late Dr. George B. Clendenin. The honor is bestowed upon the student(s) who excels academically during the freshman year of dental school.

In 1994 the recipient was Ms. Jennifer Keyser who achieved a four point GPA as a freshman dental student. In addition to her most recent demonstration of academic excellence Ms. Keyser is listed in Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities and has participated in dental research as well as membership in research organizations.

William Patteson, Deputy Regent, and Gary Clendenin

presented the certificate of achievement and a cash award to Ms. Keyser.

Eugene A. Leatherman, was presented a certificate commemorating twenty five years as a member of the College.

Also present and reporting on final arrangements for the Continuing Education Conference in Baltimore, July 1995, were Richard G. Shaffer, Registrar, Harry W.F. Dressel, 4th District Regent, and Wells Drumwright, Deputy Regent for the District of Columbia.

Charles L. Brandenburg, was the 1994 recipient of the Maryland State Dental Association's Distinguished Service Award. The DSA represents the highest honor that can be bestowed upon a member dentist by the association. Charles was recognized for contributions to the profession and years of dedication to humanitarian efforts in many parts of the world.

William B. Finagin is currently serving as an ADA Trustee, representing the 4th ADA District.

FLORIDA

The Annual Breakfast Meeting of the Florida Constituent of the International College of Dentists was held jointly with the Florida Section of the Pierre Fauchard Academy on June 10, 1995 during the Florida National Dental Conference.

Presiding over the meeting, Deputy Regent Kamal N. Zakhari introduced visiting VIPs including Donald E. Johnson, president of the USA Section of ICD; Frank A. Catalanotte, new dean of the University of Florida, College of Dentistry; and Jose E. Medina, Regent, District 5, ICD.

Donald E. Johnson gave an inspiring presentation, reminding the audience that Private Practice, Fee for Service Dentistry need not capitulate to Managed Care. His timely message admonished those in dentistry who wish to work within the Managed Care system. He pointed out the inherent deficiencies in this system. He further urged that dentists, as individuals, become more active in solving this problem by informing the leaders of 'corporate America' as to what constitutes good dental treatment. He pointed out that those of us who have these leaders in our practice have an opportunity, and responsibility, to present the dentists' viewpoint on the quality issue.

In support of the spirit of academic achievement and special leadership qualities, awards were presented to two 1995 graduates of the University of Florida, College of Dentistry.

The Beckley Division of the West Virginia Chapter of the USA Section of the International College had a meeting in September 1994, to present Tom Jarrett a plaque. The plaque, presented by Regent William Harris, was a recreation of the plaque that hangs on the wall at West Virginia University Dental School. The plaque is for a fund set up from the International College for Dental Research, which is in his father's name, William Mitchell Jarrett, who was a member of the College. Tom Jarrett presented a check for $1,000.00 to Bill Harris at this time, for matching funds for the 1993 campaign for the grant. At present, the fund has $19,000.00 to be used by students for dental research at the school.

After dinner, a discussion was presented by Paul Loflin on the Chilean Exchange program with the USA sector for dental research.

A trip to Chile is being planned. The Beckley sector remains active, thanks to strong leadership.

District 7 OHIO

1994 was the year of our favorite son, Richard Rice. Dick highlighted the year by his induction as the International President of the International College of Dentists. He served with his usual dignity and style and made us all very proud of him. We feel privileged to associate and serve with him. He is past president of The Greater Cleveland Dental Society, a recipient of the Ohio Dental Association Achievement Award, the recipient of the Ohio Dental Association Distinguished Dentist Award, and the 1994 Ohio Dental Association Man of the Year. Dick remains perpetually in action with strong commitments tional College of Dentists at the 1994 New Orleans meeting. Nancy also functions as Director of Operations for the Ohio Dental Association Services Corporation. She is president-elect of the Ohio Society of Association Executives and past president of the American Society of Constituent Executives. Her experience, along with degrees in journalism and dental hygiene, have made her a tremendous asset to the ODA. We are all very proud of Nancy and her accomplishments. Nancy resides in Columbus with her husband, Stephen, and her four year old son where she is active in the community and her church.

Dave Rummel completed the 1994 year as president of the Ohio Dental Association. Dave carried the year with his insightful leadership on the political front and his commitment to organizational details of the ODA. Dave continues his commitment to dentistry as a member of the ODA Executive Committee and his ongoing dedication to the ADA.

We miss Robert Hinkle as Editor of the Ohio Section. Bob did such a wonderful job as editor of the Ohio Section that we asked him to become our communications expert emeritus. Our September 1995 meeting will honor Bob and his wife, Peg.

Ron Lemmo was recently installed as the president of the Greater Cleveland Dental Society at the Annual Members Party. Attendees celebrated with Ron at the formal restaurant facility in the left field stands at Cleveland's luxurious new baseball park, Jacobs Field. It was a memorable night for Ron and his wife, Marsha Pyle, who were both inducted into the International College of Dentists in New Orleans this past fall. Ron is looking forward to a landmark year for the GCDS. He, Marsha, and their lovely daughter reside in Solon, Ohio. Our September 1994 dinner meeting was a special night. We enjoyed an entertaining evening in honor of Dick and Lois Rice. Bob Horton initiated a Spring meeting in May of 1994. It was a beautiful day for lunch, fellowship, and golf.

The Annual Spring Brunch of the Cleveland Section was held in March 1995 at The Country Club of Cleveland. Over 50 Fellows enjoyed a great brunch and an entertaining talk by former Notre Dame and University of Akron football coach, Mr. Gerry Faust. It was a lovely Spring day conducive to good fellowship in beautiful surroundings.

James E. Fanno was recently honored by the Ohio Dental Association as the recipient of the organization's 1994 Distinguished Dentist Award. The ODA's highest level of recognition, the Distinguished Dentist Award was presented during the association's president of the Case Western Reserve University School of Dentistry Alumni Association.

John Gerstenmaier is the 1995 president of the 5300-member Ohio Dental Association (ODA).

Dedication to serving others is a characteristic of Gerstenmaier's career. It was while serving in the U.S. Health Public Service with the Indian Health Organization that he chose pediatric dentistry as a profession. John is a graduate of Adelbert College Western Reserve University, the Northwestern University School of Dentistry, and received his specialty degree in pediatric dentistry at Case Western Reserve University School of Dentistry. He is a former president of the Akron (Ohio) Dental Society and the Ohio Academy of Pediatric Dentistry.

1994 National Volunteer Leadership Award of the American Cancer Society goes to Murray Stein.

Murray Stein was presented the 1994 National Volunteer Leadership Award by the American Cancer Society November 9, 1994. He is the only dentist to ever be given this award.

Now Professor Emeritus of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery,

School of Dentistry, Case Western Reserve University, he has made significant contributions to the education of dental professionals. His peers cite his experience, intelligence, and judgement in praising him.

He is a past president of the Ohio division and has been a stalwart supporter of patient services and the cancer response system in his division.

His commitment to serving the needs of cancer patients extends to the national level, and as chair of the RIG subcommittee, he played a major role in implementation of the RIG program throughout all units of the society.

Our International College of Dentists immediate past president Richard C. Rice was recently given an award from the Greater Cleveland Dental Society for "Special Recognition and the Sincere Appreciation for his Untiring, Unselfish and Meritorious Service to the dental profession, the public and the Greater Cleveland Dental Society."

INDIANA

The music of Broadway show tunes played in the background, the Big Six wheel rattled as the members spun the wheel, and the annual Breakfast Meeting of District 7 in Indiana was underway. The theme this year for the annual breakfast was "Vegas Comes to Indiana" as we set our sights ahead to the International College meeting in Las Vegas in October. With our own version of "Vanna", the members took their chance on the Wheel of Fortune and were able to win prizes generously donated by various dental supply companies. The Indiana Chapter would like to thank the following companies for their generous donations.

Colgate Hoyt

Association, the Indiana Chapter financially supported Carl Rieder's course on "Oral Rehabilitation with Implant-Supported Fixed Prosthodontics". Carl Rieder is also a member of the American College, Academy of General Dentistry, Pierre Fauchard Academy, and OKU. Don Arens is the Director of Continuing Education at Indiana University School of Dentistry.

Charles Hassel came forward to give the invocation. Charles is the former Deputy Regent and the Indiana Dental Association President 1995-1996. We congratulate Charles on his election to president and we thank him for his continued support of the International College.

Twelve Fellows-elect were introduced by their sponsors. These members will be inducted into full membership in Las Vegas. The Fellows-elect and sponsors are as follows:

Gordan R. Arbuckle of Indianapolis, sponsored by Gene Roberts and Bill Hohlt
 Daniel W. Cheek of Terre Haute, sponsored by Dave Hay
 Max E. Fetter of Fort Wayne, sponsored by Lloyd Hagedorn

USA Past President Lloyd Phillips addresses the breakfast.

The head table for the annual breakfast was an absolute list of successful dentists and dedicated ICD members. Our next introduction was for Lloyd Phillips. Lloyd was past USA Section president, and is currently an International Councilman, the chairman of the Historical Committee, and a member of the nominating and investment committees of the USA Section. Lloyd has given his endless support to the ICD and remains a mentor to many young or newer dentists.

Coming to the podium next was our current USA Section President Don Johnson. Don related to our membership the mission statement and theme for this year. He talked about the need for fellowship versus membership. He related to us the many challenges we will face in the years to come, including our struggles with fee for service dentistry, versus the concept of managed care. Younger dentists are struggling with a need for direction and older dentists are trying to get out of practice, before some of these major changes occur. Don gave us a very insightful message, one that we all could learn from as the gatekeepers of the dental profession.

USA Section President Don Johnson talks about the ICD to the Indiana Chapter.

Charles Simons, Seventh District Regent, made our presentation of thanks to Karl Gossweiler. Karl received our certificate of appreciation for his kindness in hosting an International Dental Student Exchange program and returning back to us his expense check. This kind of dedication and generosity makes us very proud of Karl as our colleague and Fellow ICD member. Karl was unable to attend the meeting, so his son Michael Gossweiler received the plaque in his honor. Our congratulations to Karl!

Phil O'Shaughnessy addresses the Chapter regarding American Eagle Flight 4189.

For many of us in Indiana, last October 31 will be etched in our minds as a fatal day, when news came of an American Eagle commuter plane crash in a field in northwestern Indiana. Phil O'Shaughnessy, our own ICD Fellow, was given the call to organize the forensic dental team to aid in the disaster investigation. Phil and a team of thirteen dentists unselfishly left their homes and practices and donned hazardous materials uniforms to help comb the field surrounding the crash site to find the remains of the victims of the fatal flight 4184. The presentation of the work done was both very sad and yet we could not help but be proud of the devotion of the dentists to helping relieve the uncertainty of the family members who waited for the positive identification of the victims. The stresses were many for all involved, yet the job that the dental team did, was applauded by many. We thank Phil for his time, devotion and caring spirit, another fine example of the excellence of an ICD Fellow.

The morning activities were many, exciting and informative. Another successful meeting of the Indiana Chapter of District VII came to a close. Jean Williams bid us a good day and old friends lingered after the meeting, another showing of the "fellowship" of the International College.

He further urged our attendance at the Continuing Education Conference to be held July 21-23 in Baltimore.

Ross then presented a Certificate of Appreciation from the College to Counselor Max Friend for his years of dedicated service as Deputy Regent of our chapter. All Fellows present pledged to dedicate themselves to becoming more active in the College, to proposing new candidates for fellowship, and to encouraging those absent today to be at the Fall meeting to be held in conjunction with the ASDA Seminar.

LOUISIANA

Roseanne Reedy participates in our College's International Student and Exchange Program.

Louisiana is pleased that the College, through its International Student Exchange Project, has provided the means for one of the Louisiana State University students to participate in the program. Roseanne Reedy, an upcoming senior student, is the recipient of the program.

Roseanne will be spending her time at United Medical and Dental Schools of Guy's and St. Thomas's Hospitals. She will actually be located at Guy's Dental School, but due to re-organization the official title is as above! Roseanne is a member of Psi Omega fraternity, and a member of the student chapter of the Louisiana Association of Women Dentists. During her free time she enjoys racing sailboats and tennis. She is honored that she has been given this wonderful opportunity and knows what an invaluable experience it will be. She expects to learn something about the delivery of dental care in another country, and to broaden her horizons with some travel around England.

William H. Binnie, professor and chairman of the Department of Diagnostic Sciences at Baylor College of Dentistry, Dallas, assumed the presidency in July 1994, of the International Association of Oral Pathologists. His induction took place at the association's VIIth Biennial Congress, held in conjunction with the British Society for Oral Pathology in York, England.

A native of Scotland, William earned his dental degree in 1965 from McGill University in Montreal and earned a master's degree in oral diagnosis/oral medicine and pathology from Indiana University. He serves as U.S. representative to the royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Glasgow, of which he is a Fellow. Dr. Binnie joined Baylor College of Dentistry in 1979 and is currently vice president of the Dallas County Dental Society.

An initial endowment of $50,000 for the establishment of the Carl E. Schow, Jr. Chair in Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery at the Medical Branch has been accepted by The University of Texas System Board of Regents in Austin.

The chair is named for Carl E. Schow, Jr., who retired as Professor of Surgery and Chief of the Division of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery in August 1992.

Carl E. Schow, Jr. (left) receives congratulations from UTMB President Dr. Thomas N. James for having a Chair in Oral & Maxillofacial Surgery established in his name.

"As one of UTMB's most highly respected and renowned teachers and clinicians for more than 20 years, Dr. Schow was dedicated to his chosen field of oral and maxillofacial surgery," said UTMB President Dr. Thomas N. James, "It is a fitting tribute to his service to the Medical Branch that this chair has been established, and we anticipate that it will provide a twofold opportunity to stimulate advancement in clinic practice and research and also to fortify our recruitment of outstanding faculty in this division."

Dr. Schow received his Doctor of Dental Surgery degree from St. Louis University School of Dentistry and did postgraduate work at the University of Tennessee and the University of Oklahoma School of Medicine.

Arthur C. Reed, Houston, TX, is the 1994 recipient of the Southwestern Society of Orthodontists' (SWSO) highest honor, the Martin E. Dewey Memorial Award.

Arthur C. Reed receives Southwestern Society of Orthodontists highest award.

The award is presented each year to recognize an orthodontist who has made outstanding contributions to the advancement of the specialty of orthodontics, especially in the areas of education, practice and research.

He received the award during the recent SWSO annual meeting in Houston, TX. The SWSO is one of eight regional constituent societies of the American Association of Orthodontists (AAO) that includes more than 850 members in Arkansas, Kansas, western Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas.

He is active in the European Orthodontic Society and the Bolivian Orthodontic Society.

Raul G. Caffesse, dean pro tem of the University of Texas-

Houston Dental Branch, received the highest award bestowed by an Argentine university – the doctor honoris causa degree – from the Universidad Nacional de Cuyo.

Caffesse, the 30th recipient in the award's 55-year history, was recognized by Universidad Nacional de Cuyo regents for his contributions to dental education and periodontal research.

A nationally and internationally recognized periodontics expert, Caffesse has received numerous awards and honors, including an International Association for Dental Research Award and a William J. Geis Foundation Award from the American Academy of Periodontology. He lectures extensively in the United States and abroad, and has published more than 300 scientific articles.

New Orleans met our expectations

The Crescent City lived up to its reputation!

Spanish era wrought iron filigree adorns many French Quarter balconies.

New Orleans, also known as “Fat City,” enforced its name as the best fun city in the nation. It brought forth a package of sights, sounds and tastes that proved its name is well-earned. The city that is an American city in geography proved to be a city of the world with its history and melting pot of nationalities that marches to a different beat.

On the way from reception to the banquet.

You noticed immediately that there was plentiful spice not only in its food but also in the visual art scenes and the beat of the music.

Your steps quickened to the beat of music as it pulses and soars from every club and street corner. This is the birthplace home of jazz and the music radiates with Latin rhythm and African beats. The soaring melodies and funky rhythms display high musicianship coupled with total ease. The wonderful sounds lift your spirits.

Perhaps your mood required a little quieter atmosphere. You enjoyed walking the Vieux Carre (French Quarter) with its Jackson Square and its constant changing art displays, performers and quieter music. Did anyone tell you that vandals once removed the head of Andrew Jackson’s statue in the square? You certainly visited the French Market, the nation’s oldest public market, and the Cabildo.

A notable visit was to the hallowed pristine white architectural gem — St. Louis Cathedral. As you walked the area you realized that New Orleans is also known as a living laboratory of historical architecture. You must have been intrigued as you recognized French and Spanish influence and impressed with the ornate filigree iron work on the fences, gates and balconies. You may also have visited the splendid plantation homes in the area reflecting the history of a bygone era.

The highlight of our New Orleans visit was with our gaily colored umbrellas twirling, we “second lined” the typical jazz marching band with its cavorting leader from our reception the the banquet hall. (To the uninitiated, this is following behind the band as it marches by.)

What followed was an epicurean delight banquet, especially the white chocolate cup, saucer and spoon accompanying the chocolate mousse for dessert. What an evening as we danced the night away to splendid, timeless music.

Were you there? If not, you need to be with us in Las Vegas and have the evening of your life.

A joyous “second lining” the jazz band.

CONTINUING EDUCATION CONFERENCE XIV
25 - 27 July 1996

Summer in the Colorado Rockies is glory unequaled. The air is sweet and fresh. Spend days relaxing or choose an activity from white water rafting, jeeping in the mountains, horseback riding, golfing on the beautiful Robert Trent Jones course or hiking. Enjoy the captivating charm reminiscent of a European Alpine Village in the foothills. We will stay at the gorgeous accommodations of the Hyatt Regency Beaver Creek in an enchanting village a mountain away from reality where you will awake to breathtaking views.

Dr. James T. Mellonig, D.D.S., M.S., President of American Academy of Periodontology is our distinguished clinician. His topic will be "Update and Directions of Regenerative Therapy about Natural Teeth and Endosseous Dental Implants."

KNOWLEDGE, FELLOWSHIP and FUN in an exciting, beautiful location. Watch for the brochure early in 1996.
